

Week 12: The Celebrated Jumping Frog of Calaveras County

by Mark Twain

What We'll Do Today

- We will read about a man who bets on everything, including a frog-jumping contest.
- We are going to learn about FRAME NARRATIVE and TALL TALE structures.
- You will complete a text evidence activity.
- We will practice using conjunctions (FANBOYS).

Meet the Author: Mark Twain ✍️

- Mark Twain was born on November 30, 1835, in Florida, Missouri.
- His real name was Samuel Langhorne Clemens; "Mark Twain" was his pen name.
- He grew up along the Mississippi River and worked as a riverboat pilot.
- Twain is considered "the father of American literature."

Story Summary: The Setup

- An educated narrator from the East arrives in a mining camp looking for Leonidas W. Smiley.
- An old-timer named Simon Wheeler traps him and tells a long story about Jim Smiley.
- Jim Smiley was a man who would bet on absolutely anything.

Story Summary: The Bet 🐸

- Smiley catches a frog, names it Dan'l Webster, and trains it to jump.
- He bets a stranger $40 that his frog can outjump any frog in the county.
- While Smiley is gone, the stranger fills Dan'l Webster with heavy shot.
- The stranger's frog wins, and Smiley realizes too late that he was cheated.

Discussion Questions

- Why does the narrator think Simon Wheeler's story is boring, while we think it is funny?
- Was the stranger wrong to cheat, or was he just beating a gambler at his own game?
- What does this story suggest about people who think they are smarter than everyone else?

Literary Device: Frame Narrative

A Frame Narrative is a story structure where one story is told inside another story, like a picture frame around a painting.

- Outer Frame: The narrator meets Simon Wheeler.
- Inner Story: Wheeler tells the tale of Jim Smiley.

Why Use a Frame Narrative?

- It allows the author to create a strong contrast between the two narrators (the formal narrator vs. the folksy Simon Wheeler).
- It creates distance, making the inner story seem less reliable and more like a legend.
- The "frame" can comment on the "inner" story (the narrator thinks Wheeler is boring, which is humorous).

Frame Narrative Examples

You already know this structure from movies:

- The Princess Bride: The grandfather reading the story to his sick grandson is the "outer frame."
- Titanic: Old Rose telling her story to the treasure hunters is the "outer frame."
- The Sandlot: The adult Scotty Smalls remembering his childhood summer is the "outer frame."

Literary Device: Tall Tale 🤠

A Tall Tale is an exaggerated, humorous story that is hard to believe.

- It features larger-than-life characters.
- It has humor based on absurd situations.
- It is always told with a "straight face," as if it were completely true.

Why Use a Tall Tale?

- Entertainment: To make people laugh by exaggerating everyday life to an impossible degree.
- Coping: In the 1800s, frontier life was hard and dangerous. Tall tales were a way to feel powerful and make sense of a wild world.
- Identity: They helped create a unique "American" sense of humor, separate from formal European traditions.

Tall Tale Examples 📖

You may know these famous legends:

- Paul Bunyan: A giant lumberjack whose blue ox, Babe, created the Grand Canyon.
- Pecos Bill: A cowboy who was raised by coyotes and once lassoed a tornado.
- Modern Examples: "The fish that got away" stories, or when sports legends grow over time.

Grammar Focus: Conjunctions

- Conjunctions are connecting words that join two ideas together.
- We use the acronym FANBOYS to remember the main ones.

F-A-N-B-O-Y-S

For (Reason), And (Add info), Nor (Negative)
But (Contrast), Or (Choice), Yet (Contrast),
So (Result)

When to Use a Comma

✓ USE A COMMA

When joining two complete sentences.

"Smiley trained his frog, and he won many bets."

Sentence + , + FANBOYS + Sentence

✗ NO COMMA

When joining just words or phrases.

"Smiley trained his frog and won many bets."

Sentence + FANBOYS + Phrase

Let's Practice!

Choose the correct conjunction (AND, BUT, SO) for these sentences.

1. Jim Smiley loved gambling, _____ he would bet on anything.
2. The frog was well-trained, _____ the stranger cheated.
3. Dan'l Webster couldn't jump, _____ Smiley lost his money.

Practice Answers

1. Jim Smiley loved gambling, AND he would bet on anything.

AND = Adds Information

2. The frog was well-trained, BUT the stranger cheated.

BUT = Shows Contrast

3. Dan'l Webster couldn't jump, SO Smiley lost his money.

SO = Shows Result
